Summary

What is this statement about?

This Statement explains to alumni how the personal data, including special category data collected from them by the University, may be used, including some examples of how such data is processed.

Who is this for?

The statement is of primary interest to all University of Portsmouth alumni whose data is processed by the University and will be of general interest to the wider public.

How does the University check this is read?

Alumni are given information about the use(s) that will be made of their personal data either when they are sent a Graduation booklet at the end of their studies or when they are sent information about the work of the University’s Alumni and Advancement Team. Part of this information is a reference – and a link to – this Statement. Occasional queries about personal data from students and alumni suggest that this information is known about and read.

Who can you contact if you have any queries about this document?

All enquirers may contact the University’s Data Protection Officer, Samantha Hill, on 023 9284 3642 or samantha.hill@port.ac.uk.
Data Protection Statement: Alumni 2019-2020

1. Who is processing your personal, and special category data?

The University of Portsmouth processes your personal data and, where necessary, your special category data in order to keep in contact with you as an alumni, to update you on events at the University, to advertise the benefits of being a member of the Alumni Association and to explain how the University’s Careers and Employability service could help you as an alumni of the University.

If you have any questions about how the University processes your data then the following contact information may be useful. The University’s correspondence address is:

The University of Portsmouth
Winston Churchill Avenue
Portsmouth
PO1 2UP

Main switchboard: 02392 848484

The University’s Data Protection Officer is:

Samantha Hill – Information Disclosure Manager
Email: samantha.hill@port.ac.uk
Direct telephone number: 02392 843462

2. What we use the data for

The University of Portsmouth, specifically the Alumni and Advancement Team of the Marketing department, the Careers and Employability Service and your former academic school/department, processes your personal data, and your special category data, for example, ethnicity, for a variety of purposes, as explained below, including for the purposes of equal opportunities monitoring.

We will transfer your name, address, contact details, your degree details (subjects and dates studied), from your student record to the Alumni and Careers database(s), when you finish studying at the University. We may collect more data from you when we contact you, such as details of your employment status, and donation status (including Gift Aid options), or if you attend any events or complete any (feedback) forms.

The University of Portsmouth will use your personal data to make our communications relevant to you, to keep you informed of events run by the University for alumni, to advise you of volunteering opportunities, to contact you in relation to alumni surveys that the University is obliged to support, for example, the Graduate Outcome Survey, for fundraising opportunities, and to ensure we have recorded your contact preferences correctly.
The Alumni and Advancement Team provides further details of their specific use of your personal data in the following document:

Our legal basis for processing your data

The University's legal basis for processing the majority of your personal, and special category, data as an alumni is that the processing is necessary for the purposes of the legitimate interests pursued by the University, in advising you of the work of the Alumni Association and the Careers and Employability Service, and of graduate opportunities open to you as an alumni.

The University is also under a legal obligation to process your contact details and to provide that data to third parties, for example, to HESA, so that you can be included in such surveys as the Graduate Outcome Survey.

If we ask you for any further data such as your graduate employment details, or possible donation status, we will only process that personal data with your consent, which we will ask for at the time we collect that data. You will be given further information on how your personal data will be used at the time it is collected.

3. Who will have access to your data?

The University's legal basis for processing the majority of your personal, and special category, data as an alumni is that the processing is necessary for the purposes of the legitimate interests pursued by the University, in advising you of the work of the Alumni Association and the Careers and Employability Service, and of graduate opportunities open to you as an alumni.

The University is also under a legal obligation to process your contact details and to provide that data to third parties, for example, to HESA, so that you can be included in such surveys as the Graduate Outcome Survey.

If we ask you for any further data such as your graduate employment details, or possible donation status, we will only process that personal data with your consent, which we will ask for at the time we collect that data. You will be given further information on how your personal data will be used at the time it is collected.

4. Who will receive your data?

- We will share your contact details with HESA so that you can be contacted in relation to the surveys run by that organisation.
- If you take up any volunteering opportunities external to the University, we will share your contact details with the organisations that provide these opportunities.
- Data may also be shared confidentially, with third party organisations that host University data, for example Campaign Monitor and the Aluminati Network Group.
- We will provide data on request to the police and other enforcement agencies in emergencies, and where crime detection or prevention can be aided by its release.

The University will not release data to any third person without there being a legitimate reason to do so, except where you ask us to. This means that we will not release data to anyone other than those organisations mentioned above, without your prior agreement. If you wish us to provide data in any other circumstances you should provide us with written consent to release the data, stating the name and contact details of the individual to whom you wish the data to be sent, and advise the particular data you agree can be released/discussed.

5. Will your data be sent or stored abroad?

The University uses Google Apps for Education, which may involve personal data being stored on servers based outside of the EU.
The data the Alumni and Advancement Team use to send its email campaigns – your first and family names and email address - is stored securely on a server in the USA for the limited time it takes for the email campaign to be sent. It is then permanently deleted within one month, allowing for any contact preferences to be registered and actioned.

For more information on how HESA may store your personal data, please see that organisation’s privacy statement at https://www.hesa.ac.uk/about/regulation/data-protection/notices

6. How long will your data be stored abroad?

The University holds your full student record for six years after you have left the University so that we can fulfil our function of recording details of the awards we make, and provide details of your education and references when asked to do so. (After these six years we will retain transcript data only in order to confirm details of your award.)

The Alumni Association keeps your contact details indefinitely, but these will be checked with you on a regular basis to ensure they are kept up to date, and you have the right to have your details removed from the Alumni database at any time.

You are entitled to use the services of the Careers and Employability Service for five years after leaving the University, and therefore the Service will keep your contact details (and any other data you may provide the Service with) for that length of time, at which point your data will be deleted.

7. Your rights

You are entitled to request a copy of the data you provide to us in an electronic format so that you may pass that data to another body (the right to data portability), as well as to request a copy of the data we hold about you (a Subject Access Request). You are also entitled to raise an objection to any processing where the processing of data we hold about you is likely to cause you damage or distress, and to request either the rectification of any incorrect data, the restriction of any further processing of your data or the erasure of your data (right to be forgotten). Whilst you have the right to withdraw your consent for processing your personal data where it is carried out with your consent, where we need the data as part of a contract, it is not possible to withdraw your consent as the data is required to carry out the contract.

If you require any further information on or wish to object to, any of the uses to which we put your data, you should contact Samantha Hill, the University’s Data Protection Officer on 023 9284 3642 or samantha.hill@port.ac.uk.

Finally, you have the right to complain about the processing of your data to the UK regulator, the Information Commissioner’s Office. For more information about this body and how to make a complaint, please see www.ico.org.uk.
